

We are planning a trip to CuriOdyssey!

There are lots of science exhibits to play with and animals to see.

There will be other kids and adults playing there too.

Some kids might be quiet, and others might be loud. If one area is too crowded for me, I can go look at other animals or play with another exhibit.

I may be excited about seeing the exhibits and animals, but it is important that I stay with my grown-up or my group and not run away.

There will be many animals in habitats that I can look at, but I won't be able to touch them and they can't touch me.

Some of the animals I might see are otters, bobcats, birds, and snakes.

There might be people holding animals for me to see. But I don't have to touch the animals if I don't want to.
The animals are held and controlled the whole time.

I will be able to touch all the science exhibits or I can just watch.

I can bring my snacks and eat them at CuriOdyssey's benches or tables.

There are some food and drinks we can buy in the gift shop, but I should make sure to bring a snack if I have a special diet.

If I get scared or overwhelmed it is okay. I can tell a grown-up, and we can take a break and come back later, or go to a special quiet room.

Now that I know what to expect at CuriOdyssey, I will have a great time!

If you have any questions about your upcoming visit to
CuriOdyssey, please contact us.

Private events or birthdays:

Janan Sirhan, Events Manager

(650)340-7565

Events@CuriOdyssey.org or Birthdays@CuriOdyssey.org

Educational programs:

Carl Oosterman, Director of Education

(650)340-7590

COosterman@CuriOdyssey.org

Group visits:

Myra Sinkamo, Administrative Coordinator

(650)340-7598

Scheduler@CuriOdyssey.org

General questions:

(650)342-7755

Info@CuriOdyssey.org

Photos by:

Justin Miel Sanders

Fabares Graham

Patterson

Mike Piña

Danielle Piña